

Cocoon Core

---

Cocoon consists of a core, providing the basic services and defining the essential contracts, to which various blocks can be added to supply additional functionality. This section of the documentation is about that core.